Deadline Zaheera Walker

Feriyal Adam was raised in a poor home but her dreams are rich. When her editor tells her she is no longer needed in the newsroom, she finds herself cast into a cruel, wicked world. Then her cancer-stricken mother dies and all hopes of love, home and family seem futile. She has to do whatever it takes to cling onto her reporter's dream. Women are being murdered and a curtain of fear falls on the community. Feriyal must do her utmost to help. She goes against the grain and falls into the serial killer's lair. Time is running out and she can't afford to miss the deadline. Not this time! Will Feriyal's courage and spirit be strong enough to help her escape from the killer's clutches? And what will await her at the end of the dark, dangerous trip back home? About the author: ZAHEERA Walker is an emerging writer. She is a dreamer, a communicator and a determined young woman. She started her journalism career at a daily newspaper in Durban. Today she works in Corporate Communications and lives in Johannesburg. She reads by day and weaves words by night. In the moments in-between, she practises the ritual of living. There are days when she paints her thoughts on canvas. When the images become blurred, she grabs her camera and snaps the beauty of life. She observes life through words and writing her heart's story keeps her sane. Zaheera writes every day. Deadline is her first book. Her goal is to become a motivational speaker and to help women triumph through their struggles. She is studying towards a Communication Science degree through UNISA.
