Sounding Off Paul Andrew Kizer II

So many things are going on in this life. The rich are getting richer, and the poor are not only getting poorer, but it seems like their voice is almost nonexistent. It feels like we are talking underwater. Well in my last installment of poetry I am taking the time sound off about issues that affect our neighborhoods, countries, even our world. I feel like there is no more time to be silent. We as a people are being force fed false doctrines in church, lies in congress, injustice in our jobs, relationships, and even in our everyday life. My mother always told me that if I had a voice I had a choice and with my voice I choose to get in the arena a fight for the freedoms, and liberties that ancestors fought, bled and died for to ensure that I would have the right to be free. I choose to speak for. The injustice that is occurring in our churches due to our leaders love of monies as opposed to their love of being an instrument for the Lord to use. Our mission in life should be to set the bound free, and encouraging the hearts of people that are looking for an answers. I choose to sound off for the constant divide due to the color of my skin or the age difference between the leaders and the future leaders. To whom much is given much is required, so it is my belief that it is required of me to stand and fight. Will you fight with me? Will you SOUND OFF?
