The popularity of the second year's issues of the Teaching & Learning Company's magazine, Holidays & Seasonal Celebrations, has led to the compilation of the best ideas and activities into one, easy-to-use resource. The selections in this book represent some of the most innovative and frequently requested materials from past issues. The recurring holidays, seasons and themes are always timely and never out-of-date.

Each season includes pages of clip art; a Kid Space feature (for school yard learning adventures) and a variety of holiday and seasonal crafts, projects, stories, poems, ideas and activities.

There are back-to-school decorating ideas for those hectic first days of school as well as get-acquainted activities; autumn learning centers; fire safety tips; pumpkin units; and celebrations for Citizenship Day, Columbus Day and other fall holidays. Winter is a wonder of stories, crafts, learning activities, recipes and international celebrations. Spring and summer festivities include outdoor fun, books to share, reproducible pages, patterns and much, much more.

Here is the answer to the many requests for copies of back issues of the magazine, to the classroom teacher's ever-present need for timely material.
